I'm glad we all have chance to watch presidential politics tonight, but we'd be a better country if more people paid attention to local govt

@emc7x thanks. I was honestly baffled by that statement.

Lochner- she'd bring in local assessments instead of SOLs.

I told my daughter to Christmas tree her SOLs.

Lochner talking about SOLs. Has experience with special needs. However it's not being used to evaluate any more.

@rprav8r I like the "technology stick" line.

Lochner - didn't look at the questions. She does believe in the 1:1 ratio. Some kids can't buy certain software.

Catherine Lochner is up. She's for the at-large slot. Moved here 5 years ago.

CJ sounds like she supports County building their own internet.

I should have timed this. I'd probably vote in part by how they kept to the time limit.

CJ - we are going to need a new high school. She is retired and has the time to dedicate to school board.

CJ - we really need to focus on teacher development. Her top priority is capital improvements. Can't believe so many schools need repair

CJ wishes we could teach the kids the skills & then they would pass the tests.

CJ moved here to be closer to grandkids. They now go to "Albemarle Senior". Running b/c she wanted to help the grandkids.

CJ Hatcher. Started her own business writing curricula.

(My opinion- this would be better if the candidates gave 3 minute opening & then actually had discussions) /vent.

Joseph - concerned about teaching to take tests rather than actually teaching (my paraphrase)
